

Yes Please, I'll Have Some Pie in That Milkshake!

Magpie Artisan Pies on South Street in Philadelphia might be the first place to offer Bassetts Ice Cream based milkshakes with a slice of pie. Yes, it's true. An entire slice of pie in every shake! Take, for example, their delicious Raspberry-Rhubarb Milkshake, which has a complete slice of pie blended into this unique and creamy concoction. It wouldn't be complete without a wedge of pie crust to finish it off. Now that's a combination that's hard to beat!

Not only does Magpie make a delicious milkshake from their tasty and unique handmade pies, they can teach you how to make your own artisan pastry. Magpie offers classes twice a month, sharing their pie making secrets with students in their South Street kitchen. So sign up for a pie making workshop on their website, call them at (215) 519-2904, or visit the store in person at 1622 South Street, in Philadelphia. So fun!

Visit Magpie's website, follow them on Facebook, or stop by for a slice. You won't be sorry you did!